Introduction

The Scientist doesn't like people, the Girl likes people a bit too much and the Dog is, let's just say, in a little mess. Each lost in their own way, these three characters invite you on a journey filled with humor and warmth, introducing explosive and unique circus techniques on triple trapeze, cloud swing and dance trapeze. Sometimes you think you are looking for one thing, but end up finding something completely different!

Technical Rider

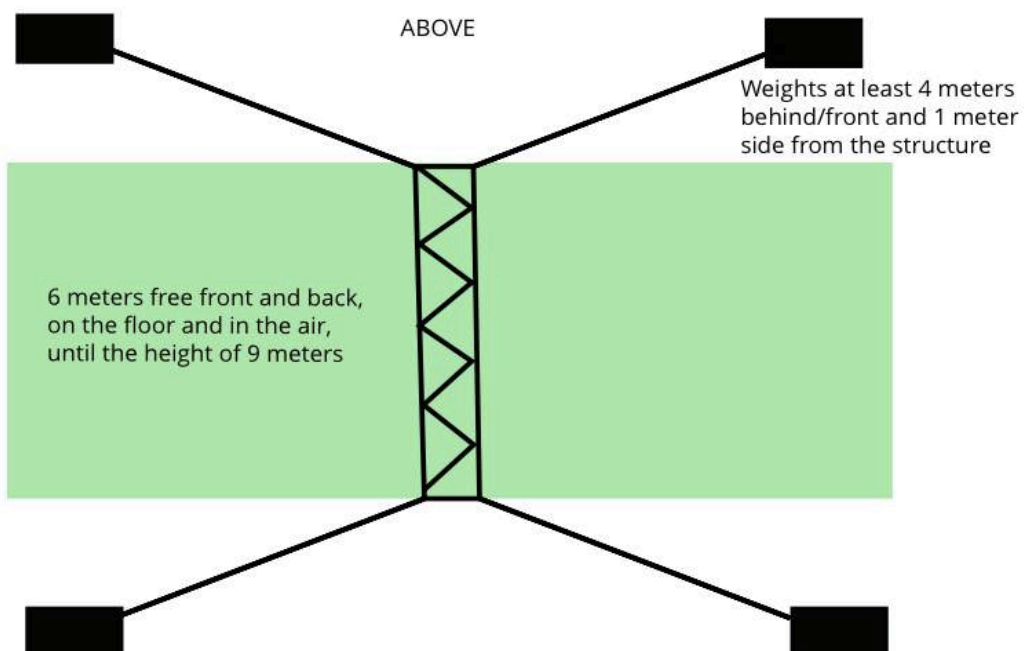

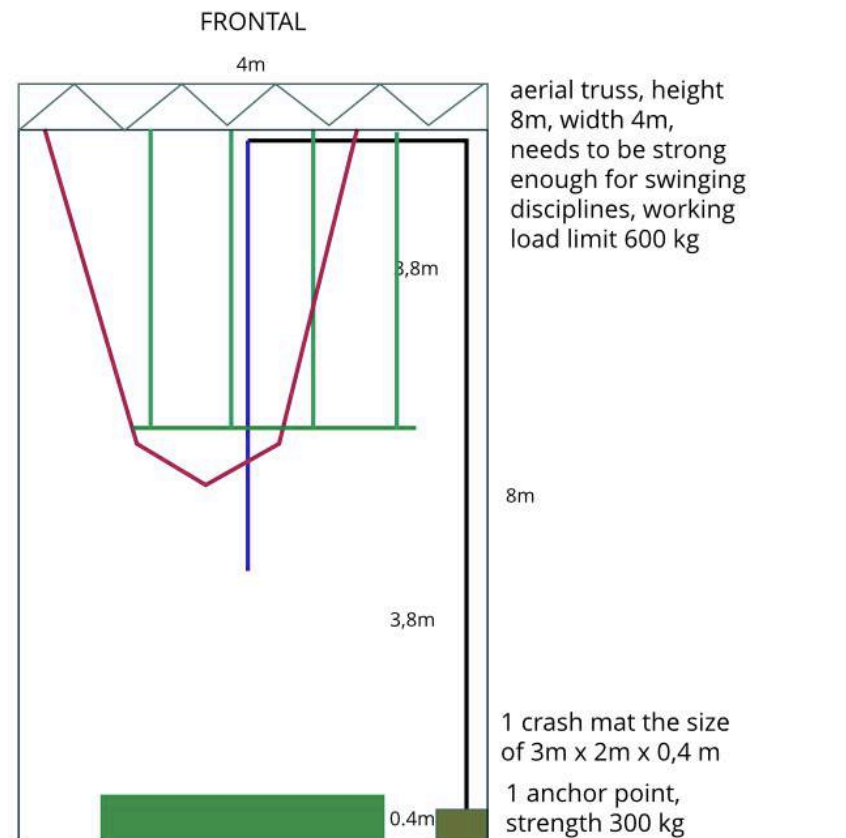

Trashpeze is an aerial acrobatics street circus show that is suitable for everyone, both children and adults. The show is easily visible to a lot of people because it happens in the air.

The material we need provided from the organiser:

- an outside aerial truss that is preferably 8 meters high, 4 meters wide, WLL 600kg
- 1 crash mat the size of 2m x 3m x 0,4m
- a sound system to play music in the show

Practical information

- build up: 2 hours
- build down: 0,5 hours

The Company Wise Fools

Wise Fools is a circus trio specialized in triple trapeze and skipping ropes. The trio started circus as a hobby in a Finnish youth circus Sorin Sirkus and they received their professional training in École Supérieure des Arts du Cirque (ESAC) in Belgium. The trio graduated from ESAC in 2014 with an original triple trapeze number. During the three years they developed a style where two catchers swing and toss one flyer.

In January 2015 they won with their work a silver medal at the prestigious Festival Mondial du Cirque de Demain in Paris. They have since worked for example with the world famous Cirque du Soleil, the German variety company GOP and various street art festivals in Korea, Spain, Belgium and Israel.

In 2017 the Wise Fools were joined by the South-African Jaimee Allen who is a 2017 graduate from ESAC. In addition to replacing one of the original Wise Fools, Jaimee is specialized in cloud swing.

In 2017 the Wise Fools started to create their first longer project Trashpeze.
