

CRECE Project 2017

Open Call

The call for participants is open to final year students from FEDEC schools, or very recent graduates. The idea is that we will create a show together, which could include either short forms (acts: 5-8 minutes) or intermediate length pieces with several artists (10-15 minutes). The creation time is short (2 weeks max.). There are no limits on the character of the pieces, on the contrary, we would like to include the wide variety of textures that are found today in contemporary circus expression.
